

Beneficial Use of Dredged Materials: Insights Across Coasts Webinar Series

Join us for the Beneficial Use of Dredged Materials: Insights Across Coasts Webinar Series

This series presents lessons learned in BUDM practice and showcases a variety of perspectives, with speakers coming from numerous backgrounds, organizations, and geographic areas.

Schedule (all talks at 1 pm CST)

February 25, 2025 - Register here - Bernard Wood (Louisiana Coastal Protection and Restoration Authority) - "Lessons Learned from Marsh Creation Monitoring in Coastal Louisiana"

March 25, 2025 - Register here - Jessie Lacy (U.S. Geological Survey) - "Where did our mud go? Monitoring shallow water placement of dredged material to nourish marshes in South San Francisco Bay"

April 22, 2025 - Register here - Brian Harris (U.S. Army Corps of Engineers) - "Elevating Wetland Restoration: State of Practice on Consolidation"

May 27, 2025 - Register here - Mike Rezsutek (Texas Parks and Wildlife Department) - "Public / Private Partnership for Programmatic BUDM Implementation in Texas"

June 24, 2025 - Register here - Joseph Smith (U.S. Fish & Wildlife Service) and Shelby Rinehart (Drexel University) - "Evaluating the factors affecting dredge placement project success: A national systematic review"

August 26, 2025 - Register here - Jack Cadigan (U.S. Army Corps of Engineers) - "Low-stress Sediment Experiments to Field-Scale Properties and Applicability to Beneficial Use Efforts"